

Q3 2025 Financial Report

operating margin expanding to 18.5%
[¹]. Cash flow from operations increased by $45 M, while capital expenditures rose to $22 M for the acquisition of two regional data centers[²].

Key Performance Indicators

Executive Summary

The company posted a strong earnings season, with revenue up 12% YoY and

Metric	Q3 2024	Q3 2025	YoY % Change
Revenue (USD M)	310.4	347.8	+12.0%
Net Income (USD M)	45.2	52.6	+16.1%
EPS (USD)	3.14	3.68	+17.9%
Operating Margin (%)	16.7	18.5	+1.8 pp

Segment Highlights

- Enterprise Services: $210 M revenue, 22% growth, driven by cloud adoption.
- Consumer Products: $95 M revenue, 5% decline due to seasonal softness.

- International Markets: $42 M revenue, +9% in emerging economies.

"Our focus on scalable infrastructure positions us for long-term value creation." — CFO, 2025

Cash Position

Category	Amount (USD M)
Cash & Equivalents	138.4
Short-Term Investments	32.7
Total Liquidity	171.1

 Q3 Revenue Trend Figure 1:

Quarterly revenue trend for FY2025.

Outlook

Guidance remains robust; we anticipate Q4 revenue of $360–375 M and EPS of $3.90–$4.10^[^3]. Strategic investments will focus on AI-driven analytics and global expansion.

References

[^1]: Annual Report 2025, Finance Division, 2025.

[^2]: Capital Expenditure Statement, Q3 2025, Corporate Treasury, 2025.

[^3]: Management Discussion & Analysis, FY2025 Forecast, 2025.